REGISTRATION AND HIPAA AUTHORIZATION ON RALLY

Frequently Asked Questions

Do I have to sign the HIPAA Authorization request to register for Rally and participate in the WellnessWorks incentives?

No, you can register for Rally without agreeing to the HIPAA Authorization request. The purpose of the HIPAA Authorization is to allow Rally to provide you with a more seamless experience if you drop/lose coverage through YMCA Employee Benefits. Once you are no longer covered under a YMCA Employee Benefits medical plan, this authorization allows Rally to continue to include more of your health data in your account, to provide you with a more complete Rally experience.

How do I decline the HIPAA Authorization?

When Rally originally launched, you had to accept this authorization in order to proceed with registration. Now, you have the option to either accept or decline.

To accept this authorization request, check the signature box and click the NEXT button. This will allow Rally to continue to include more of your health data in your Rally account, should you ever leave the YMCA Employee Benefits plan.

To decline this authorization request, do not check the signature box, and click the NEXT button. By declining, Rally will not carry over some of your health information if you are no longer covered with YMCA Employee Benefits.

How will my user experience be different if I don't sign the HIPAA Authorization?

It won't, as long as you are still covered on our Plan. The only difference you'll experience is in the event you are no longer covered by a YMCA Employee Benefits medical plan. See above for the difference in user experience for that scenario.

What if I already registered and agreed to the HIPAA Authorization? Can I change my mind and revoke it after I've already finished the registration process?

Your Authorization will expire automatically upon deactivation, for any reason, of all of your accounts for Rally. However, you may revoke this Authorization at any time by notifying Rally's Privacy Officer in writing at the address below. Revoking this Authorization will not have any effect on actions that Rally or any of the Rally Partners took in reliance on the Authorization before it received notice of your revocation.
